

Autism Centre of Excellence

Participants invited for new study

Help us to find out if we can prevent and/or reduce anxiety in young children with a diagnosis of autism.

Who can take part?

Parents of children with a diagnosis of autism who will start school in 2021 in South East Queensland. Your child does not need an anxiety diagnosis to take part.

What will happen and when?

We're looking for parents to take part in a trial of a 6-session intervention that has been specifically designed to prevent or reduce anxiety in young children with autism.

- ❖ Sessions will be run during school Terms (Term 1, 2 and 3) at Logan, Mount Gravatt and South Bank.
- ❖ All sessions are run by an experienced qualified Clinical Psychologist (A/Prof Dawn Adams) and are free for parents.
- ❖ Participating parents receive a gift card to thank them for their time

For more information email: coolforschool@griffith.edu.au